

Raymar

On-board entertainment

Raymar is an important company in the field of marine applications. They are active on the market of information technology and collaborate with prestigious companies known for their high quality products and services such as, Bang & Olufsen, Azimut-Benetti and many others. Now, Raymar is reaching out to the global market with its new line of products bearing the Promar trademark: a complete range of equipment for on-board entertainment. The line consists of amplifiers and in-wall, in-ceiling speakers-diffusers, which can be mounted indoors or outdoors, offering high technological sound, combined with a linear and essential design. Raymar products, manufactured with very high quality materials, are particularly suitable for marine climates. The latest product is a small, light, and reliable remote control that is also waterproof. It has a learning feature, and is programmed with a library of codes that cover most audio/video devices on the market. Uniqueness of beauty, easy use and reliability will be found in the new line of products, DLD (Digital Living Device) and LCP (Luxury Customization Program), soon to be put on the market; they are currently undergoing studies in the Raymar laboratories.
